Throughout cultures, science, and religions, the number 40 holds significant symbolism and importance. Negative forty is the temperature at which the Fahrenheit and Celsius scales correspond (40°F -40°C). The Babylonians observed the 40 day disappearance of the Pleiades whose return marked the start of the New Year festival; In Japan, one’s 40th birthday marks an important transition; In Jewish belief, the Israelites wandered 40 years in the desert before entering the Promised Land; In Hinduism, many popular religious prayers consist of 40 shlokas or dohas (couplets, stanzas); The planet Venus returns to its original point every 40 years with a 40 day regression; In Muslim tradition, the dead are usually mourned for 40 days; In modern Christian practice, lent consists of the 40 days preceding Easter; Some Russians believe that ghosts of the dead linger at the site of their death for 40 days; Lastly, a marriage’s 40th anniversary is symbolized by ruby, the color/stone of passion and power. In most of these and other instances, the number 40 symbolizes a defining moment transitioning one from preparation and testing to success and accomplishment.

2008 represents OMA’s 40th year of diversity work. As such, 2008 provides a timely opportunity to reflect on the cultural and racial progresses that have occurred on our campus, within the United States, and throughout the world. It is our hope you will use OMA’s 40th birthday as permission to pause and reflect on the many obstacles we have overcome as a campus and to examine the important role that each of us plays in today’s contemporary diversity charge which includes responsible citizenship within our college, geographic communities, and environmental contexts.

In OMA’s ‘ruby’ year, OMA enjoyed increased engagement with various RISD communities and stakeholders, established RISD’s first annual Diversity Awards program, and advanced the establishment of the Evaing Multicultural Center and its exhibition space – The Yellow House Gallery. Our work with members of the campus community was met with enthusiasm and the satisfaction that comes from collaboratively building bridges across lines of ability, ethnicity, gender, nationality, race, sexual identity, and socioeconomic class.

If indeed the number 40 serves as a symbol for testing and preparation then it is our hope that RISD’s greatest struggles to achieve campus diversity and inclusive excellence are behind us. Let this be a defining moment in the journey of RISD and OMA that ushers us into the greatest years of community building, inclusive practice, and cultural enterprise that our college has ever experienced.

Respectfully,

Tony Johnson

People from all backgrounds bring value to the art and human conversations held at RISD. The Office of Multicultural Affairs (OMA) assists the RISD community-at-large in shaping a culturally inclusive and supportive environment that enables all its members the opportunity to fully contribute to and benefit from the total RISD experience. OMA coordinates enriching opportunities for cultural awareness, dialogue, and interaction. The office services the needs of the total RISD community while providing specific support to RISD’s artists of color, those from international backgrounds, and those dedicated to inclusive community.

As a resource for RISD’s minority populations, OMA advises students on social, cultural, and personal matters, financial aid issues, and academic procedures. OMA works closely with faculty members, staff, and administrators to ensure every opportunity for minority populations to realize their academic goals and personal growth. OMA assists in student development and leadership through supporting and advising campus cultural groups on planning events, activities, and lectures, and similar community building programs.

“RISD is committed to a multi-culturally and philosophically diverse environment that is respectful of all the members of its community: students, faculty, curators, and staff.”

– RISD MISSION STATEMENT
“The Third World Program is a concept that was initiated during the tumultuous 1960’s as with most ethnic oriented programs across the country. The few third world students at RISD during that time saw the need to develop a viable program that would not only help finance the education of future third world students: of African, Asian, and South American ancestry, but provide the necessary counseling service, both academic and personal, that was also lacking. RISD has understood the need for such a program and has aided its development along with federal assistance.”

—JOHN TORRES: Director, Third World Program 1968-73
Executive Staff

Tony Johnson is the Director of Multicultural Affairs at Rhode Island School of Design. In this role, he participates in constructing and implementing the college’s efforts toward a multicultural and philosophically diverse environment that is respectful of all its members. Tony works to ensure a college campus that is enriched through experiencing and understanding society through strategic use of the range of cultures the college represents and building strong bridges to Rhode Island’s greater community.

Tony is a 1983 RISD sculpture alumnus. Prior to his current role, he held a variety of positions including co-founding an arts consultant business, conducting art design and professional development training for MetLife Insurance, and serving as RISD’s first admissions officer dedicated to diversity enrollment.

In addition to his work with art institutions, he is a board member of the Rhode Island Black Heritage Society, a juror on The Rhode Island Foundations’ First Generation Scholarship Committee, and a member of the Multicultural Affairs Think Tank through the New England Resource Center for Higher Education (UMass / Boston).

Deborah Kasten is the Administrative Coordinator of Multicultural Affairs at Rhode Island School of Design. She is responsible for various office administration functions, supervision of student workers and the development and structure of the office for continued and greater impact. She assists the Director in the assessment and design of office programs, events, and activities and works to maintain and increase the office’s presence on campus and throughout the Rhode Island community.

Deborah holds a Bachelor’s degree in accounting/financial services management and graduated from Johnson & Wales University in 1988. She worked in NJ, where she is originally from, as a corporate accountant for a utility company and as a staff accountant at the corporate headquarters of Bed, Bath & Beyond.

Outside of her work here at RISD, she is a Deacon at the Cathedral of Life Christian Assembly in Providence, RI, an advisory board member for The Metropolitan Regional Career and Technical Center (The MET) LTI Program, a member and past president of the graduate chapter of her sorority, Alpha Kappa Alpha, and a graduate student in Higher Education Administration at Boston College.

Mission

Established in 2007, the RISD Cultural Collective was created to provide support and mentorship to RISD’s student cultural clubs and further the leadership of student club leaders. By creating this ‘consortium’, the collective hopes to strengthen the range of opportunities for campus cultural interaction, increase cross-cultural interaction, and maximize college resources.

Conferences, Workshops, Training

Office of Residence Life: Resident Assistant Training
September 5, 2007
Tony Johnson was invited to facilitate a diversity workshop to the 2007-2008 Resident Assistant staff. The workshop session included playing “The Game of Oppression” (produced by NASPA) and group dialogue on the role we each play in shaping an inclusive campus.

Office of Student Life: Orientation Leader Training
September 4 & 5, 2007
Tony Johnson was invited to facilitate a diversity workshop to the 2007-2008 Orientation Leader staff. The workshop session included playing “The Game of Oppression” (produced by NASPA) and group dialogue on the role we each play in shaping an inclusive campus.

Korean Student Workshop
October 30, 2007
Tony invited Aleta Bok Johnson and Kisa Takesue to conduct workshops for staff and faculty. These workshops were designed to support staff and faculty who interact with large populations of Korean national & domestic students at RISD. The session addressed Korean identity development, education achievement, American acculturation, social norms and social systems.

Multicultural Affairs Directors’ Think Tank
October and November 2007; January, March & May 2008
Tony Johnson is a member of this think tank, run and organized by The New England Resource Center for Higher Education (NERCHE). Monthly sessions are attended on topics relative to important trends, laws, and research impacting campus diversity work.

NASPA Multicultural Institute
July 13, 2008
Tony attended this institute in Miami, FL. This 2nd Annual institute explored race, class, gender, sexual orientation and nationality within student & academic affairs divisions.

Northwestern Multi-Cultural Affairs Administrators (NMCAA)
October, November & December 2007; January, March & April 2008
Tony Johnson is a member of NMCAA. RISD served as host for the November meeting where the topic of discussion was “Comparative Cultural Center Models.”

Deacon’s Training Institute, Cathedral of Life Christian Assembly (COLCA)
May 4–June 1, 2008
Deborah Kanston was asked to participate in the Deacons Training Institute administered by Rev. J. Allen Williams, D.Min, Sr. Pastor/Chief Empowerment Officer, COLCA. These weekly empowerment-training sessions were designed to prepare participants mentally and spiritually for the work, sacrifice and humility required of a servant leader.

NASPA 2008 Conference
March 8-12, 2008
Deborah Kanston attended the conference in Boston, MA, sponsored by Student Affairs Administrators in Higher Education (NASPA) entitled “Chart a Course for Student Success.”

National Conference on Race and Ethnicity in American Higher Education
May 23-30, 2008
Tony attended the 22nd Annual NCORE conference in Orlando, FL, sponsored by the University of Oklahoma’s Office of Continuing Education. NCORE represents the leading and most comprehensive national forum on issues of race and ethnicity in higher education.
2008 Campus Climate Survey

In our continued effort to best understand and contextualize how RISD students engage in and perceive campus diversity, OMA annually conducts its campus climate survey. The survey, now in its third year, seeks to assess the perceptions and experiences of two RISD student cohorts: first year and graduating students. The survey results are provided here.

Survey Context

First year students
All first year students were invited to participate in the survey. This group was targeted in hopes that the information provided would give insight on student experiences and that the data might be compared to the results of their graduating campus climate survey in 2-3 years. First year students targeted and surveyed include freshman and transfer undergraduate students currently ending their first year of full-time studies at RISD. Those invited to participate include students from domestic and international populations as well as those from minority and majority backgrounds. All students regardless of their race / ethnic heritage were invited to participate in the survey. To this end, the survey did not seek the participant’s race / ethnic heritage or name.

Graduating Students
All graduating RISD students were invited to participate. This group was chosen in hopes that the information provided would be as candid and honest as possible without student concern for retribution or negative impact. Likewise, this group represents the student population who, in theory, would have had the most social, academic, and experiential opportunities with RISD. Those invited to participate include undergraduate seniors and second-year graduate students from domestic and international populations as well as those from minority and majority backgrounds. All students regardless of their race / ethnic heritage were invited to participate in the survey. To this end, the survey did not seek the participant’s race / ethnic heritage or name.

Yellow House Gallery

The Yellow House Gallery uses art as a vehicle to explore and investigate the cultural, cross-cultural, and inter-cultural dynamics within society. The gallery seeks to promote dialogue surrounding the variety of perspectives belonging to RISD’s commonwealth and the greater art community. The gallery’s exhibitions create art exchanges that provide sustainable opportunities for deeper learning and exploration of cultures, experiences, and ways of life.

2007-2008 Overview

The 2007-8 academic year represents the Gallery’s second year of operation. The former Ewing Multicultural Center Gallery underwent a renaming process to give the gallery an independent identity from the Ewing building. During the course of this year, a campus wide naming process was enacted and a host of naming options submitted. A naming jury was formed consisting of staff and students representing a variety of RISD’s cultural groups and gallery associations. These stakeholders chose ‘The Yellow House Gallery’ as the gallery’s official name.

A total of 9 exhibitions were successfully shown each of which added another layer of dialogue to the discussions of culture, nationality, ethnicity, sameness, and difference. Exhibitors included RISD students, faculty, alumni, exchange students, and a guest artist. In all, over 80 exhibiting artists shared ideas and provoked conversation through the gallery this year. The Yellow House was a valuable tool in conversations beyond the boundaries of our campus. Shows included exploring African tradition and ritual, students’ reflections based on visiting Argentina, and looking though the eyes of exchange students in Providence. Each exhibition was aimed at increasing understanding while using RISD’s common language: ART.

Staff

The Yellow House Gallery was staffed by three individuals: Graduate student Hye Jung Park (Furn ’10) and undergraduate Lien Tong (AP ’09) continued as gallery coordinators in the early fall. Katie June Fournier (AP ’10) joined the staff in November to replace Hye Jung Park who resigned to better focus on her academic studies. The gallery staff is overseen by Tony Johnson and Claudia Ford, Directors of Multicultural Affairs and International Programs respectively.
