

10-18-2018

Global Warming and the Sweetness of Life : A Tar Sands Tale | Matt Hern

Liberal Arts Division

Rhode Island School of Design, liberalarts@risd.edu

History, Philosophy, + the Social Sciences Department

Rhode Island School of Design, hpss@risd.edu

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.risd.edu/liberalarts_ncss_events

Part of the Art and Design Commons, and the Sustainability Commons

Recommended Citation

Division, Liberal Arts and Department, History, Philosophy, + the Social Sciences, "Global Warming and the Sweetness of Life : A Tar Sands Tale | Matt Hern" (2018). Nature-Culture-Sustainability Studies (NCSS) Events. 8.

https://digitalcommons.risd.edu/liberalarts_ncss_events/8

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Nature-Culture-Sustainability Studies (NCSS) at DigitalCommons@RISD. It has been accepted for inclusion in Nature-Culture-Sustainability Studies (NCSS) Events by an authorized administrator of DigitalCommons@RISD. For more information, please contact mpompeli@risd.edu.

MATT HERN

GLOBAL WARMING

and the Sweetness of Life

A TAR SANDS TALE

MATT HERN AND AM JOHAL

WITH JOE SACCO

The MIT Press - Cambridge, Massachusetts - London, England

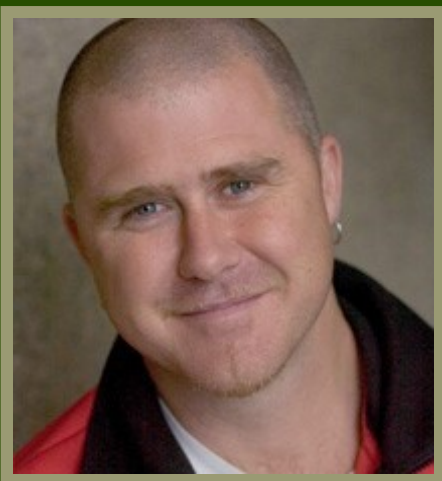

October 18th

6:15 p.m.

Old Library/College Building

Matt Hern

Matt Hern is a community organizer, independent scholar, writer and activist based in East Vancouver, British Columbia (Coast Salish Territories). He is known for his work in radical urbanism, community development, ecology and alternative forms of education. He is currently the co-founder and co-director of a creative production co-operative with and for refugee and recently-arrived youth called Solid State Industries. Hern teaches at multiple universities, lectures globally and is widely-referenced in radical political and social discourses. His writing has been published on all six continents and translated into fourteen languages. Hern holds a PhD in Urban Studies from the Union Institute & University,

This event is sponsored by the Department of History, Philosophy + the Social Sciences and the Division of Liberal Arts Humanities Fund