LITTLE BO-PEEP has lost
her sheep,
And can't tell where to find
them;
Let them alone, and they'll
come home,
And bring their tails behind
them.

Then up she took her little
crook,
Determined for to find them;
She found 'em indeed, but it
made her heart bleed,
For they'd left their tails behind 'em.

Little Bo-Peep fell fast asleep
And dreamt she heard them
bleating:
But when she awoke she found
it a joke,
For still they all were fleeing.

It happened one day, as Bo-
Peep did stray
Unto a meadow hard by,
There she espied their tails, side
by side,
All hung on a tree to dry.

ELSIE Marley has grown so fine,
She won't get up to serve the swine;
But lies in bed till eight or nine,
And surely she does take her time.

[Game on a child's features]

H ERE sits the Lord Mayor	forehead
Here sit his two men	eyes
Here sits the cock	right cheek
Here sits the hen	left cheek
Here sit the little chickens	top of nose
Here they run in	mouth
Chinchopper, chinchopper,
Chinchopper, chin!	chuck the chin

THERE was an old woman she lived under a hill,
 And if she's not gone, she lives there still.
 Baked apples she sold, and cranberry pies,
 And she's the old woman that never told lies.

COCK crows in the morn,
To tell us to rise.
And he who lies late
Will never be wise:

For early to bed,
And early to rise,
Is the way to be healthy
And wealthy and wise.

DING, dong, darrow,
The cat and the sparrow;
The little dog has burnt his tail,
And he shall be hanged to-morrow.

THE rose is red, the violet is blue,
The gillyflower is sweet and so are you:
These are the words you bade me say
For a pair of new gloves on Easter-day.

TOM, Tom, the piper's son,
He learnt to play when he was young.
He with his pipe made such a noise,
That he pleased all the girls and boys.

SOME little mice sat in a barn to spin,
Pussy came by, and she popped her head in;
"Shall I come in and cut your threads off?"
"Oh, no, kind sir, you will snap our heads off."

To market,
to market,
to buy a plum
cake,
Home again,
home again,
market is late;
To market,
to market,
to buy a plum
bun,

Home again, home again, market is done.

THERE was a little girl who wore a little hood,
And a curl down the middle of her forehead;
When she was good, she was very, very good,
But when she was bad, she was horrid.

BRYAN O'LIN had no breeches to wear,
So he bought him a sheepskin and made him a pair.
With the skinny side out, and the woolly side in,
"Ah, ha, that is warm!" said Bryan O'Lin.

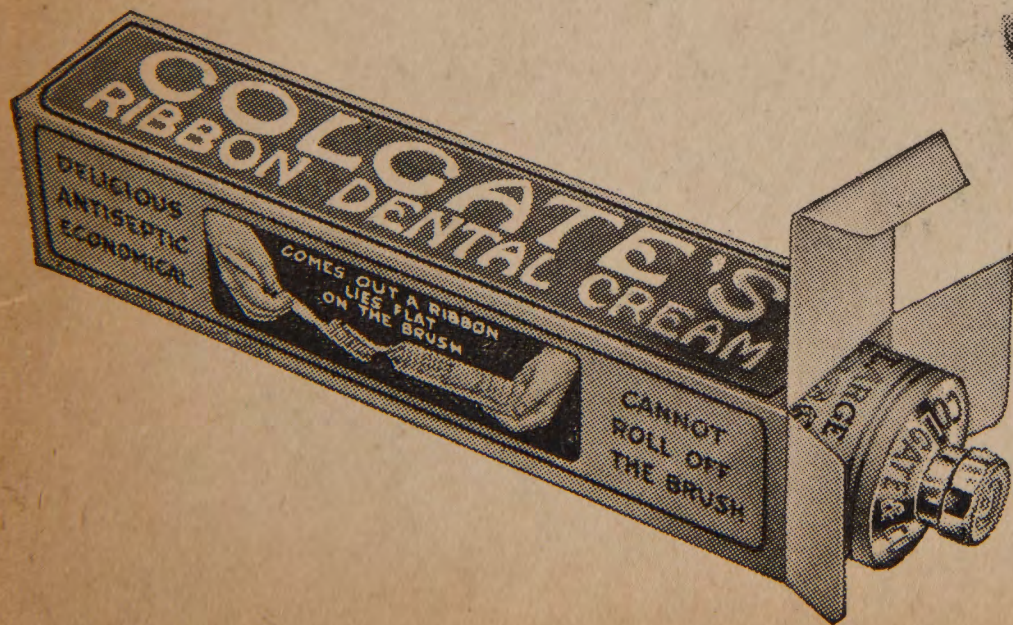

DOGS in the garden, catch 'em, Towser;
Cows in the cornfield, run, boys, run;
Cats in the cream-pot, run, girls, run, girls;
Fire on the mountains, run, boys, run.

LUCY Locket lost her pocket,
Kitty Fisher found it:
Not a penny in it,
But a ribbon 'round it.
