On February 14, 2018, Marjory Stoneman Douglas High School was attacked by a former student. The nineteen year old managed to legally obtain the firearm used in the school shooting. He murdered 17 people and injured 17 others. As a result of this tragedy, students from Marjory Stoneman Douglas and all over the country engaged in nationwide protest, even founding the March for Our Lives organization that advocates for gun control.

Gun violence has become an ever increasing problem in America. Infact, guns have become the leading cause of death among American children and teens. Below are the names of those lost in the Marjory Stoneman Douglas shooting.
