

cyborgs

paul sunday

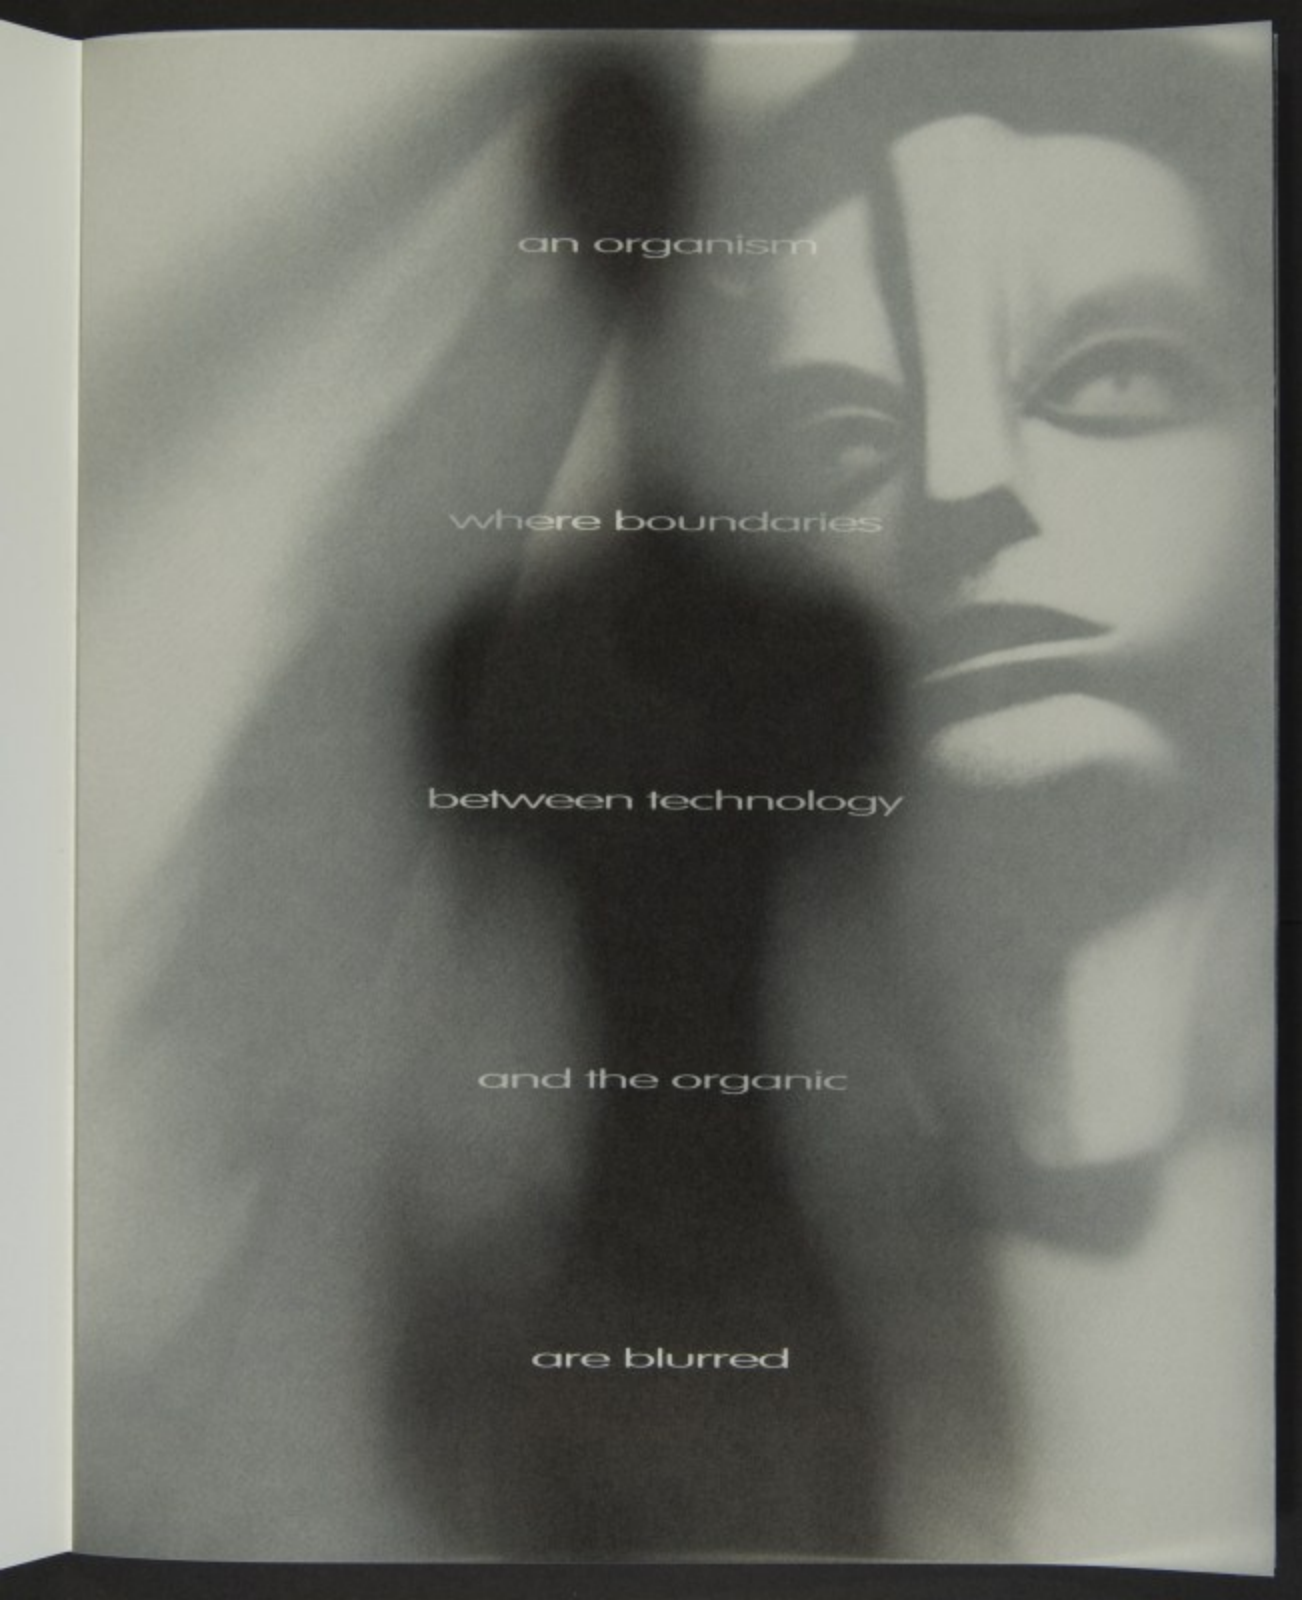

"This is a place where I never was before: here breathing is different, and more exciting than the sun in the reflection of a star beside it." ■ Tracy Baker

an organism

where boundaries

between technology

and the organic

are blurred