"I always veer left," said Goliath.
"And I, right," replied Dolores.
Before long, the two deformed bugs
realized they might make a great team.

On that sunny day, when the leaves and the roses
s, Goliath the grasshopper
s the dragonfly found
go straight.

Lea veered off to the left,
her good wings
me more
liath flew
ding star.

To Goliath's astonishment,
Dolores, too, was lopsided.
Two of her wings were weak while the others
were strong.

"I always veer left," said Goliath.
"And I, right," replied Dolores.
Before long, the two deformed bugs
realized they might make a great team.

On that sunny day, when the trees grew leaves and the roses grew thorns, Goliath the grasshopper and Dolores the dragonfly found a way to go straight.
