that more than one in every six black men in the 26 to 54 age group disappeared from civic life, mainly because they died young or locked away in prison. This means that there are only 83 black men living outside of jail for every 100 white women in striking of the white population, where men and women are about equal numbers.

This astounding shortfall in black men translates into lower birth rates, more out-of-wedlock births, a greater risk of poverty for children, and, in extension, less tax revenue. As a source of concern to policy makers, the collapse of the black male family is a growing problem in the United States.

While the black male family and the collapse of the black male family is a growing problem in the United States.
that more than one in every six black men in the 24-40-54 age disappeared from civic life, mainly because they died young or locked away in prison. This means that there are only 83 black living outside of jail for every 100 black women – in striking equal numbers.

This astounding shortfall in black men translates into lower in rates, more out-of-wedlock births, a greater risk of poverty for men and women are about equal

"lower in poverty for ising men's every"