

LEFT COAST PRESS
Memories of Science
No. 35 of 50

MEMORIES OF SCIENCE

And though I was Electromagnets made it
My little triumph went ignored
(He said) so other kids could learn.

And in my lab experiments,
Protected by some lucky stroke,
I neither blew the building up
Nor saw my work go up in smoke.

a grain of sand.